Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Cystinosis Research Network, Inc. as of December 31, 2016 and 2015, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization and purpose

Cystinosis Research Network, Inc. (the Organization) is a not-for-profit organization that is dedicated to supporting and advocating research, providing family assistance and educating the public and medical communities about cystinosis. The Organization funds research and programs primarily through donations from the public, grassroots fundraising events, and grants.

The following summarizes the Organization's programs:

Research:

The Organization establishes and funds fellowships and research grants focusing on clinical and research training in cystinosis.

Education and Awareness:

The Organization raises awareness and reinforces strong relationships through representation at national medical conferences, affiliation with other organizations such as the National Organization for Rare Disorders (NORD), publication of periodic newsletters and awards of educational scholarships to individuals with cystinosis and their siblings.

Family Support:

The Organization provides information and opportunities to network for individuals with cystinosis and their families through participation in a biennial conference on cystinosis that brings together clinicians, researchers and medical professionals from around the world. It also supports newly diagnosed and existing families by providing access to world experts via advisory boards, moderation of an email support group, and information packets.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of accounting:

The financial statements of the Organization have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Basis of presentation:

The Organization reports information regarding its financial position and activities in three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets.

Unrestricted – Unrestricted net assets are available to finance the general operations of the Organization. The only limits on the use of unrestricted net assets are the broad limits resulting from the nature of the Organization, the environment in which it operates and the purposes specified in its Articles of Incorporation.

Temporarily restricted – Temporarily restricted net assets result (a) from contributions and other inflows of assets, the use of which by the Organization is limited by donor-imposed stipulations that either expire by passage of time or can be fulfilled and removed by action of the Organization pursuant to those stipulations, (b) from other asset enhancements and diminishments subject to the same kinds of stipulations and (c) from reclassifications to (or from) other classes of net assets as a consequence of donor-imposed stipulations, their expiration by passage of time or their fulfillment and removal by actions of the Organization pursuant to those stipulations. See Note 7.

Permanently restricted – Permanently restricted net assets (generally referred to as endowment funds) are assets that have donor-imposed restrictions that stipulate that the contributed resources be maintained permanently, but permit the entity to utilize or expend part or all of the income or other economic benefits derived from the donated assets. The Organization has no permanently restricted net assets as of December 31, 2016 and 2015.

Cash:

The Organization maintains its cash in bank accounts which, at times, exceeds federally-insured limits. The Organization had cash balances in excess of federally-insured limits of approximately $19,000 and $76,000 at December 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. Management believes that the Organization is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Pledges receivable:

Pledges receivable include unconditional promises to give. Management provides for uncollectible amounts based on its assessment of the current state of individual accounts and donor history. An allowance for doubtful accounts is considered unnecessary and is not provided. At December 31, 2016, $200,000 is receivable in 2017.

Property and equipment and related depreciation:

Property and equipment is stated at cost or if donated, at the approximate fair value at the date of donation. Depreciation expense is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the assets. The Organization follows the practice of capitalizing all expenditures for property and equipment in excess of $5,000 with a useful life greater than one year.

Grants and contributions:

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenue in the period the pledge or promise is received and recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted or permanently restricted depending on the existence and nature of any donor-imposed restrictions.

Contributions that are restricted by the donor are reported as increases in unrestricted net assets if the restrictions expire (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose of restriction is accomplished) in the same reporting period in which the revenue is recognized. All other donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets, depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Contributed goods and services:

The Organization receives donated services from unpaid volunteers who assist in its fundraising events and programs in the furtherance of its purposes. In addition, many individuals volunteer their time and perform a variety of tasks that assist the Organization. None of these amounts have been recognized in the statements of activities because the criteria for recognition has not been met.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Functional allocation of expenses:

The costs of providing various programs and activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Use of estimates:

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Tax status

The Organization is a tax-exempt organization as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code) and is exempt from federal income taxes on related income pursuant to Section 501(a) of the Code. In addition, the Internal Revenue Service has determined that the Organization is not a private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a) of the Code. Management has determined that the Organization was not required to record a liability related to uncertain tax positions as of December 31, 2016 and 2015.

4. Concentrations

For the year ended December 31, 2016, two donors provided approximately 59% of the Organization's funding. The pledges receivable balance for these donors represented 100% of the outstanding balance as of December 31, 2016.

For the year ended December 31, 2015, two donors provided approximately 57% of the Organization's funding. The pledges receivable balance for these donors represented 100% of the outstanding balance as of December 31, 2015.

The Organization's Scientific Review Board reviews research grants and fellowships through progress reports, which are provided by the grant administrators. The Organization reserves the right to terminate future funding for an award if its progress report reflects unsatisfactory progress. As such, the Organization is only committed to funding grants based on the most current progress reports. Future conditional research grant and fellowship commitments are as follows:
